NILES CHAMBER HEARS OAKLAND MAN SPEAK AT TUESDAY MEETING

STATE FAIR WORK TAKES NILES MEN TO CAPITOL CITY

Alameda County Exhibit To be Bigger Than Last Year

Supervisor Ralph V. Richmond, of the first supervisorial district, representing the Board of Supervisors of Alameda county on the state fair committee of the Alameda County Development Commission, Harvey Braun, of Niles, N. W. Armstrong, executive secretary, and A. Clay Myers, of Niles, journeyed up to Sacramento last week to confer with state fair officials.

The county plans an agricultural and floricultural display for 1931 and have secured an ideal location in the large horticultural building for this year's fair. The exhibit entered last year, which won much commendation, will be kept intact and installed in a new location being grouped with the state department exhibits in the large room over the grandstand.

Supervisor Richmond and party conferred with Charles Paine, secretary of the state fair, and talked ever plans for the 1931 show that opens on September 5 continuing through until September 12. Governor Rolph has assured the state fair directors that he will personally see that the fair this year excells anything ever attempted before in the history of California. Already every one of the ounties in the state have promised to enter displays this year.

The Alameda county committee will be assisted by representatives of the San Leandro Flower show, rhubarb growers and various individual growers throughout the county, states Supervisor Richmond..

Harvey Braun, of Niles, chairman of the exhibit committee for the development commission, has been assured by George Roeding, of Niles, that the county exhibit will be made more attractive by a variety of plants and evergreens from a local nursery.

Niles People See San Francisco Game Sunday

Among those from Niles who attended the Knights of Columbus charity football game in San Francisco Sunday were Arnold Belleni, Tello Belleni, John Hunter, Lawrence Keller, Antone Garcia, Bert Silveria, and Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Bettencourt.

The team captained by Larry Bettencourt was defeated by a score of 13 to 0. Both scores were made in the last quarter, when Bettencourt's team, tired and with no reserves to strengthen weak spots, was overwhelmed by the powerful attack of fresh substitutes who replaced tired players on the opposing team.

W. W. Holshouser Gives Interesting Talk On Life Insurance

W. W. Holshouser, of Oakland, was the guest speaker at Tuesday's meeting of the Niles Chamber of Commerce. Vice President F. V. Jones presided.

Immediately at the onclusion of the luncheon a box of cigars, presented by Dr. E. C. Grau, was passed around.

The first item of business was the reading of a letter of resignation from President Smith, who is now in Hanford. The resignation was accepted by a vote of the chamber and a letter is to be written to Smith thanking him for his services as president and expressing the chamber's best wishes for his success in his new home.

Several visitors present were greeted and introduced. They were E. B. Hodges, principal of Washington Union high school; F. T. Dusterberry, of Centerville; Harold Gray, of Berkeley; and Joe Soares and Vitor Graves, both of Hayward.

Principal Hodges, in returning the chamber's greeting, announced night schoolclasses every Tuesday and Thursday and told a little about the plans of the band and orchestra for the coming contests. Several of the communities in the township have already started plans for the raising of their share toward sending the high school musicians to the state contests.

The other visitors all expressed their pleasure at being present.

The guest speaker was then introdued by E. F. Glassbrook, who had arranged for him to appear. Holshouser, a representative of a large life insurance company, spoke impersonally on his line of business.

Among the many interesting points he touched on were the following: Life insurance companies invest in all kinds of industrial projets; they thus furnish the lifeblood of industry. They have no dull seasons, no boom times; during the depression of the past year all life insurance companies either held their own or slightly advanced. Five major companies, out of the three hundred in this country, do one-half of the life insurane business of the United States. Life insurance, as an investment, is favored over all other forms of investment by the leading business men of the country.

At the conclusion of the talk, Ken Leash was appointed to take charge of the program for next week's meeting, and the chamber adjourned.

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Moore, of Niles, are spending a few days of this week in Oakland.

POOL DRAINED TO STOP MOSQUITO BREEDING

A small crew of men started drainage operations on Stiver's Pond near Mission San Jose last week. The pool is to be drained in order to destroy an excellent mosquito breeding ground.

This drainage work is a part of the program of the local mosquito abatement district in combating these insects. The breeding season for mosquitos is approahing and drainage of breeding pools must be completed before that time in order to be effective this year.

The work on Stiver's Pond is progressing under the direction of R. Bendel, assisted by M. Pierce and T. A. Stark. When the present drainage operations are completed, the work will probably be shifted to the marsh land near Newark.

The men are olso constructing a fish hatchery in the pond for the purpose of propagating Gambusia fish, which feed on mosquito larvae. These fish will be distributed in ponds where drainage and oiling is impractiable. It is planned to plant a few of these fish in the various garden ponds in the township.

Harold Gray, engineer of the Alameda County Mosquito Abatement District, was a visitor in Niles Tuesday and checked over the work done in Washington Township.

JANUARY RAINFALL GREAT BENEFIT TO EARLY VEGETABLES

Records Show This Year To be Dryer Than Last Season

Although rainfall records to date show that this year's fall is some three inches below last year's record and about five inches below normal, the situation is considerabaly improved over what it was at this time last month.

The rainfall since then has made the planting of early peas possible. Those who planted peas in December, counting on the December rains, have seen their crops saved by the timely wet spell during the first week in January and the continued rainfall since.

Deember, usually the first wet month of the rainy season, had one rainfall, and it shows on official records as a "trace." The fall was so slight as to be unmeasurable. The month was further marked by continued cold, dry north winds.

Rain, which started New Year's Eve, put an end to the dry spell and was the beginning of a welcome wet period. Rainfall at this season of the year is extremely beneficial to early vegetables and garden produce. Southern Alameda county is the vegetable garden for all the bay cities, and a good deal of the farmer's success depends on being able to meet the demands of this market.

A busy day was scheduled for recent meeting of the Sixteenth District, of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers. The meeting was held in Longfellow Junior High School, Richmond, on January 26, with Mrs. B. Pedrotti, president of Richmond Council, as hostess.

The meeting opened with a short business session, followed by the report of Mrs. W. B. Reynolds, Berkeley, district president, on the recent state board meeting at Los Angeles. Her topic was the one discussed by the State Council of District Presidents, "Ethical Expenditure of Parent-Teacher Funds." Miss Edith Ryan, assistant professor of public health nursing at the University of California, spoke on "The After Effects of Contagious Diseases in Children."

After the luncheon hour, which was in charge of Mrs. Smith reciprocity chairman for the Richmond Council, Mrs. Ralph Courier, Alameda, district chairman of the bureau of home-making, lead in a series of talks on the subject, "Should the modern home be changed to suit the modern environment, or should the environment be changed to suit the home?" Those assisting Mrs. Courier were Miss Lina Bayley, Berkeley, district chairman of home-making; Mrs. F. F. Canham, district chairman of spiritual training; Mrs. Roland Bendel, of Niles, district chairman of children's reading, and Mrs. F. V. Vollmer, Berkeley, state director of name service.

NILES SCHOOL HAS HIGH AVERAGE ATTENDANCE

The average attendance at the Niles grammar school has been above ninety per cent ever since the beginning of the school term. This is the same high average that was maintained all through the fall term.

Principal E. Dixon Bristow says that the average attendance for this school year has been higher than any year since 1922, the year he came to Niles.

This high average is being kept up in the local school in spite of the colds and flu that are prevalent at this time of year. The enrollment since Christmas has increased, and even that failed to decrease attendance percentages.

Attendance at other schools in the county is being considerably affected by illnesses due to the cold and damp weather. Pleasanton, is perhaps, the worst hit by this menace. Daily absentee averages in that city have mounted as high as seventy pupils since Christmas due to an influenza epidemic which is sweeping the city.

WESTERN PACIFIC IS GRANTED PERMISSION TO EXTEND RAILROAD

The Western Pacific was granted the right to construct an all-rail route into San Francisco, according to dispatches from Washington Tuesday. This railroad's plans call for the building of a line from Niles, across the southern tip of San Francisco bay to the penninsula, and thence to San Francisco.

Niles will be the junction point of the new line with the present Western Pacific tracks. This in itself will mean to the township better freight service into San Francisco as well as to the eastern states.

There is the possibility that Niles will be made a division point on the new line, although no official word has been given out as yet. In such an event, shops, yards, and other improvements will be built here. Employment will be furnished to many men. These men will need homes in Niles or the vicinity. They and their families will furnish an additonal market for the goods of Niles merchants. In short, this railroad expansion program means growth to Niles and vicinity.

The interstate commere commission, in granting the railroad's application to build the line, recommended the company seek the Southern Pacific railroad's permission to use their Dumbarton bridge tracks and approaches. If this permission is obtained it will shorten the original plan of construction and reduce the estimated cost considerably.

The proposed Niles-San Francisco extension has been under consideration for several years and has been before the interstate commerce commission for more commerce than two years. Vigorously opposed by the Southern Pacific, the first application was denied, but the Western Pacific won a rehearing which resulted in Tuesday's decision.

The commission stated as reasons for giving their approval that there had been an "impressive showing of the Western Pacific's need for an all-rail entrance into San Francisco" and also a clear indication of the desirability of furnishing the industrial area of that city with competitive rail service.

The ommissioner's action will allow the Western Pacific to construct a line from Niles, across San Francisco bay via a bridge of their own, and up the penninsula to San Francisco, according to the original plans of the railroad. However, as a condition to its grant, the commission stipulated that the railroad should attempt to obtain common user rights for the movement of trains over Dumbarton bridge. This plan would necessitate the using of about fifteen miles of Southern Pacific trackage incorporated in the bridge and its approaches.

If the necessary permission is obtained, this plan will reduce the estimated cost of about $8,000,000 to opproximately $3,600,000. It will also reduce new, line of construction from thirty-nine miles, as originally planned, to twenty-five miles.

NORMAN H. PARKS RETURNS FROM VACATION

Norman H. Parks, publisher of the Register, returned from a two weeks' motor trip through southern California Sunday. Mrs. Parks, who left with him, remained in Long Beah and will not return to Niles for another week.

Lloyd H. Rhodes, who has been in charge of the Register as well as the Pleasanton Times during the publisher's absence, has returned to his regular duties in Pleasanton.

Mr. and Mrs. Parks spent most of the time in Imperial Valley, stopping at Los Angeles, Pasadena and Long Beach en route. Parks reports that he found business conditions in general good, but that a large influx of laborers into Imperial Valley, due to the government report that it was the "whitest" spot in country, has created an undesirable situation there.

The cold weather during the last month or so has slightly stunted the lettuce crop in the valley, so that he average head is unusually small this year.

One thing the Niles publisher partiularly noticed was the large increase in the Mexican population, especially in Brawley, since his last visit about one and one-half years ago. The Brawley Mexican settlement has at least doubled since that time. He believes that this increase presents a problem which must be faced and solved, or the whole southwest will be beome Mexicanized in a short time.

Debating League Is Organized By School Groups Of District

Pennant Will Be Awarded To Winning Team This Year

A Southern Alameda County Debating League consisting of the Washington, Hayward and Amador High schools was organized at a meeting held at the Hayward High School auditorium last week. The meeting consisted of two students and one faculty representatives of each school which enter the league. Livermore stated that it did not want to enter this year, but will be willing to do so next year. Miss Grace Knoles, Mildred Durham and Edward Kettman were the Washington Union high school delegates who attended the meeting.

It was decided that the fairest way to pick the officers of the league was to draw by lot and that each year the offices of the league would rotate thus making it possible for each school hold a different office each year.

The offices for the ensuing year as a result of the draw Tuesday night will be as follows: Washington drawing president; Livermore, vice-president; Amador, secretary-treasurer; and Hayward, director of activities.

The debating club of each school is to elect its officer at its club meeting, and that no one person from any school can hold an office two years in succession thereby each school must be represented by a different student each year.

The meeting of the league will be called by the president and will be held at the school that he is from in the third week in September for the fall semester and on the first week in February for the spring semester. It was stated by a representative of the league that in two weeks time a meeting will be held at the Washington High school at which time the constitution of he league will be completed and the schedule of debates will be made.

It was decided to give the school which wins the debate a pennant this semester and that when Livermore enters the league next semester a silver cup will be given and the school that wins the cup three years in succession may keep the cup in honor of their debating club.

REGISTRATION SLIP MUST BE KEPT IN AUTO

California motorists who are now receiving their new certificates of registration for 1931 were urged today by the Division of Motor Vehicles to remember that these certificates must not be locked away in some part of the house to be forgotten but must be kept in the car.

The certificates are now being mailed out at the rate of from 10,000 to 15,000 daily, it was stated, as part of the work of renewing the licenses for some 2,000,000 cars. The law requires that the certificate of registration be displayed in the driver's compartment of the car.

The division favors the practice of strapping the certificate around the steering post in a suitable container that will keep it free from dirt. It must be kept in a position, however, that will enable anyone to read it when the window is closed.

The certificate of registration is more than an identification tag for the car. It is required with every application for a new set of plates each year and should, therefore, be preserved. Duplicates may be obtained only on payment of the fee of fifty cents required by law.

Unlike the certificate of registration, the certificate of ownership (pink slip) is the owner's title to his car and should be kept in the safety deposit box or under lock and key in the house.

The Division is now in the midst of the annual license renewal period and urges motorists to forward their applications for new plates at once.

DROUGHT DISASTER GREATER THAN 1927 MISSISSIPPI FLOOD

Donations for Relief May Be Sent to Oakland Red Cross

In order to relieve the suffering of 400,000 families in the seventeen states suffering from the last year's drought disaster, the Oakland Red Cross is soliciting contributions in Washington Township. According to the findings of investigators throughout the section money is needed to, (1)—provide food for the starving; (2)—furnish fuel to ward off the winter cold; (3)—protect public health in stricken communities; and (4)—save the farmer's live stock.

The disaster is the most severe in the history of the United States. The number of families affected is greater than at the peak of the Mississippi flood. Household furniture has been sold to purchase food and fuel. In one thirty mile radius investigators found not a fire in a kitchen stove and no food. Cattle and other live stock are dying for lack of feed. All financial resources of the stricken communities have been exhausted.

Donations may be sent to the Oakland chapter of the Red Cross at 1307 Harrison street.

I the Lord will hold thy right hand, saying unto thee, Fear not; I will help thee.—Isa. XLI. 13.

What Eleven Tubes Look Like

Miss Marguerite Clayton had an idea that the eleven tubes in the new model 111 Superheterodyne Plus Philco radio could be held in her two hands but she found they took up a lot more space than she thought. The instrument pictured here is the new Philco Superheterodyne plus highboy, one of the 1931 additions to the line. It is equipped with automatic volume control, tone control, station recording dial, and is non-oscillating.

Continuation of Ranking Depends on Result of Examinations

All milk from creameries in Pleasanton may now officially bear the label of Grade A, according to an announcement made this week by Nelson E. Clemmens, milk inspector.

Following extensive educational work and rigid inspections on the part of the milk inspector, the Pleasanton milk dealers began to cooperate with that department, with the result that the state department of health has written several complimentary letters.

Last week Inspector Clemmens was informed by M. E. McDonald, chief of the bureau of dairy control, that milk dispensed in Pleasanton was now entitled to bear the label of Grade A.

In order that this ranking may be continued, it will be necessary for the milk dealers in Pleasanton to keep their products at that grade for the state will come into Pleasanton and make its surprise tests as it does in other cities which have been permitted to label milk as Grade A.

In commenting upon this, Clemmens stated that it was his belief that the grades here would be about 90 percent the first time the state makes its surprise test, as it has been his experience that until after several tests have been made the milk dealers do not realize the importance of the ratings they are given, and that later on the grade will improve.

The letter from McDonald follows:

"In response to your application and in accordance with the results of an investigation conducted by our milk specialist, Mr. A. W. Hayes, I am pleased to approve the milk inspection department of the cities of Pleasanton and Livermore.

"Certificates of approval will be forwarded to you just as soon as appropriate lettering can be obtained.

(Signed) M. E. McDONALD,
Chief Bureau Dairy Control."

Livermore Cowboys Upset Amador Dons By Score Of 21 To 19

Game Last Friday Hardest Ever Played On Pleasanton Court

Before one of the largest crowds that ever attended a basketball game at the Pleasanton gym the Amador Dons of that city went down to defeat by a score of 21 to 19 in one of the hardest fought games ever played in Pleasanton Friday when they met the Livermore Cowboys. The game ended the first half of the S. A. C. A. L. The B team dropped its first game to the Livermore B team with a score of 21 to 7.

Although the Dons lost this game they are still in a tie for first place with Livermore. The Don forwards were down with the flu and Livermore played in top form all through the game. In the return game with the Cowboys the Dons expect to overcome the tie and win first place if all members of the team are present.

The varsity team played a speedy game from the beginning to end in almost perfection from the spectators point of view. The both teams were evenly matched and throughout the entire contest neither team had more than a four point advantage.

At the half the Dons were in the lead with 16 to 15. Both teams were tied with 45 seconds to go. The boys were playing at top speed when a field goal by one of the Cowboys ended the game with a score of 19 to 21 in favor of the Cowboys.

The Dons will meet the Hayward teams in Pleasanton in a return game on Friday afternoon at 3:30.

Members of the Niles Neighbors of Woodcraft attending an open installation in Oakland Friday evening were Mrs. Sarah Crane, Martha Crane, Raymond Crane, Theresa Oliver, Mary Miller, and Carrie Martin.

LIONS CLUB WILL BEAUTIFY PARK GROUNDS

McKinley Park, Pleasanton's municipal recreation grounds, is to be beautified by the addition of a tree to be planted by the Lions club of Pleasanton. Arrangements were made at a meeting of the club held last Tuesday night at Ratti's restaurant. C. Letham, Claude Smallwood and A. B. Pickard were named as a committee to have charge of the tree planting.

Pickard, mayor of Pleasanton, has been interested in the beautifying of the park, which at the present time contains many rare trees. Some of these have been brought from distant parts of the world. One of them was taken from the Sherwood forest in England and planted there some years ago.
